

2019 Leadership Conference

Keynote:

Meghan Cox Gurdon

Meghan is the Wall Street Journal Children's Book Reviewer and a former foreign correspondent, speaking on the culture being created for our students by contemporary children's literature.

Photo: Michael Kress

Lunch Speaker:

Joe McTighe

Joe is the recently retired Executive Director of the Council for American Private Education (CAPE), who will speak about the challenges and opportunities private educators face in promoting diversity and in advancing character education in the classroom, school and community

Information:

March 8, 2019

7am - 3pm

The Ingleside Hotel,
Pewaukee, WI

Registration Cost*:

Early-bird: $175

Early-bird Group: $155

Individual: $195

Group: $175

*May be Title II-A eligible;
check with your district.

For more information
scan below:

Wisconsin Council
of Religious & Independent Schools
Committed to a Higher Standard